NHÀ XUẤT BẢN HÀ NỘI - 2005

Lời giới thiệu

Nước ta đang bước vào thời kỳ công nghiệp hóa, hiện đại hóa nhằm đưa Việt Nam trở thành nước công nghiệp văn minh, hiện đại.

Trong sự nghiệp cách mạng to lớn đó, công tác đào tạo nhân lực luôn giữ vai trò quan trọng. Báo cáo Chính trị của Ban Chấp hành Trung ương Đảng Cộng sản Việt Nam tại Đại hội Đảng toàn quốc lần thứ IX đã chỉ rõ: “Phát triển giáo dục và đào tạo là một trong những động lực quan trọng thúc đẩy sự nghiệp công nghiệp hóa, hiện đại hóa, là điều kiện để phát triển nguồn lực con người - yếu tố cơ bản để phát triển xã hội, tăng trưởng kinh tế nhanh và bền vững”.

Quán triệt chủ trương, Nghị quyết của Đảng và Nhà nước và nhận thức đúng đắn về tầm quan trọng của chương trình, giáo trình đối với việc nâng cao chất lượng đào tạo, theo đề nghị của Sở Giáo dục và Đào tạo Hà Nội, ngày 23/9/2003, Ủyban nhân dân thành phố Hà Nội đã ra Quyết định số 5620/QĐ-UB cho phép Sở Giáo dục và Đào tạo thực hiện đề án biên soạn chương trình, giáo trình trong các trường Trung học chuyên nghiệp (THCN) Hà Nội. Quyết định này thể hiện sự quan tâm sâu sắc của Thành ủy, UBND thành phố trong việc nâng cao chất lượng đào tạo và phát triển nguồn nhân lực Thủ đô.

Trên cơ sở chương trình khung của Bộ Giáo dục và Đào tạo ban hành và những kinh nghiệm rút ra từ thực tế đào tạo, Sở Giáo dục và Đào tạo đã chỉ đạo các trường THCN tổ chức biên soạn chương trình, giáo trình một cách khoa học, hệ thống và cập nhật những kiến thức thực tiễn phù hợp với đối tượng học sinh THCS Hà Nội.

Bộ giáo trình này là tài liệu giảng dạy và học tập trong các trường THCS ở Hà Nội, đồng thời là tài liệu tham khảo hữu ích cho các trường có đào tạo các ngành kỹ thuật - nghiệp vụ và đông đảo bạn đọc quan tâm đến vấn đề hướng nghiệp, dạy nghề.

Việc tổ chức biên soạn bộ chương trình, giáo trình này là một trong nhiều hoạt động thiết thực của ngành giáo dục và đào tạo Thủ đô để kỷ niệm “50 năm giải phóng Thủ đô”, “50 năm thành lập ngành” và hướng tới kỷ niệm “1000 năm Thăng Long - Hà Nội”.

Sở Giáo dục và Đào tạo Hà Nội chân thành cảm ơn Thành ủy, UBND, các sở, ban, ngành của Thành phố, Vụ Giáo dục chuyên nghiệp Bộ Giáo dục và Đào tạo, các nhà khoa học, các chuyên gia đầu ngành, các giảng viên, các nhà quản lý, các nhà doanh nghiệp đã tạo điều kiện giúp đỡ, đóng góp ý kiến, tham gia Hội đồng phản biện, Hội đồng thẩm định và Hội đồng nghiệm thu các chương trình, giáo trình.

Đây là lần đầu tiên Sở Giáo dục và Đào tạo Hà Nội tổ chức biên soạn chương trình, giáo trình. Dù đã hết sức cố gắng nhưng chắc chắn không tránh khỏi thiếu sót, bất cập. Chúng tôi mong nhận được những ý kiến đóng góp của bạn đọc để từng bước hoàn thiện bộ giáo trình trong các lần tái bản sau.

Unit 1: INTRODUCTION

Objectives

Give a brief introduction about the course.

Contents

Purpose, entry level

Main features and structure

Classroom use and self-study guide

- What is the purpose of the course?

To prepare learners for typical situations in which they have to understand and respond in English.

- What is the language level?

The course is for learners ranging from the elementary level - namely those who have studied some English or who have acquired some English in their work - to more advanced speakers, who need to study systematically the English of food and beverage service.

- What does the course consist of?

- The course book, which comprises:

- 16 teaching units

- The text of the tape-recorded exercises

- A table of unit contents

- A cassette of recorded exercises. This is an essential part of the course.

- What are the main features of the course?

- Learners practise understanding questions, requests, etc. in typical situations, from customers who have different accents and express themselves in different ways.
- They practise using a more limited but adaptable range of active language for speaking to customers.

- There is also some reading and writing practice where it is relevant - for example, in the unit on banquets.
- Each unit is based on a topic- an aspect of restaurant and bar work, such as taking orders or making reservations.
- Some language elements (such as polite questions or countable and uncountable nouns) occur in more than one unit, because such language is needed in different kinds of situations, and also because it is useful for students to encounter key language items more than once.
- In nearly all the language practice, students play the part of members of staff who are dealing with customers.
- Students have many opportunities to apply the language work to local situations, and to bring their personal experience, knowledge and interests into the work.
- Many of the exercises ask students to work in pairs or small groups, usually in realistic customer-staff situations.
- How is each unit structured? Each unit has nine parts:

Snapshot

This section

- Helps students to marshall the facts they already know about a topic may provide new information about the topic
- Introduces relevant language

The work includes labeling drawings, matching words and pictures, etc. Some of the discussion can be in the students' own language.

Listening and speaking

This is the largest section. The emphasis on the oral/aural skills is underlined by the inclusion of a substantial listening and speaking section in each unit. It includes a lot of activities. Various "mini" exercises lead to slightly larger-scale work, in which the students are guided in speaking in longer transactions. An important part of the section is the taped work: this usually comprises one or more dialogues in which students have to understand what customers are saying, and practise saying the waiting staffs words.

Reading

This section provides the main thematic and linguistic input for each unit, the reading passages are either informative texts or else based on or drawn from authentic written material used within the hotel industry.

Pronunciation

The pronunciation practice aims at increasing self-confidence when dealing with customers. Intonation, rhythm and stress are highlighted as essential for conveying the appropriate professional attitude- formality, politeness, respect and enthusiasm.

Language study

This section deals with both functional and grammatical structures. The functional language provides students with essential phrases for dealing with customers. The grammatical structures are always related to the communicative needs of professions.

Vocabulary

The vocabulary sections introduce many useful words and expressions for professionals in the catering industry. Students have practice in understanding and using items of vocabulary that are associated with the topic of the unit.

Writing

Routine writing tasks of the type encountered in the restaurant service are practice in this section together with language devices, such as linking and sequencing, commonly used to structure information in written texts

Follow-up

The students use the language they have learnt in the previous sections to deal with whole situations that are likely to occur in real life. They have an opportunity to bring in local situations and to include their own knowledge, experience and interests.

Useful words and expressions: This section consists of useful words and expressions. Students use this section for reference.

• Classroom use

The course has been designed to provide 180 periods of classroom work on the basis of 11-13 periods per main unit and one and a half hours per revision unit. These timings should not, however, be taken as more than suggestions. The casual amount of work that is necessary will vary according to the level of the learners of English. Their knowledge of the professional background, the amount of work that is done as home work, and adaptation by teachers to their own situation

- Self- study guide

A learner working alone can do most of the work in this book. For vocabulary work, a bilingual dictionary and a good up-to-date monolingual dictionary (such as the Long man Dictionary of Contemporary English) are recommended. For discussions, it will obviously be best if a partner can be found. For pair work, if there is no partner, the learner can record one participant's words on tape and respond to the tape.

LANGUAGE STUDY

"would" and "could" for polite request, questions, suggestions
We use would in polite questions about a customer's intentions and wishes when making a reservation.

i. Intentions

How many people would there be in your party?

For what day/time would that be?

Would that be for lunch or dinner?

How many would there be in your party?

ii. Polite requests with could and please

Could I have your name, please?

Could you spell that, please?

iii. Wishes

Would you like a table near the band?

ACTIVITY 1 Look at these sentences. In each case, the waiter or waitress can not meet the customer's request. Fill in the crossword to complete the sentences.

- (a) We have no tables at that time. We're fully.....
- (b) We're in the basement, and there's no.....(Am. E).
- (b) There are five steps down to the restaurant, so there's no.....for.....
- (c) We have no table big..... for ten people.
- (d) I'm sorry, you can not smoke here. This is a..... area.
- (e) We do not serve children's.....

ACTIVITY 2

1. Six customers ring to make changes to their reservations. Match up the messages with their meanings.

For example: (a) = 5.

Message:

- (a) I have a reservation for tomorrow. But I want to put it off.
- (b) We're booked for 2.00. Could you put that forward to . . . ?
- (c) There'll be nine of us instead of seven.
- (d) We're booked for nine. Can we come at seven instead?
- (e) We'd now like to come for dinner rather than lunch.
- (f) We're going to have to postpone our reservation for tomorrow to Saturday.
- (g) Now we'd rather come for lunch than dinner.

Meaning:

- (1) I want to come at seven o'clock.
- (2) I want to come earlier than that.
- (3) I want to come for lunch.
- (4) I want to come for dinner.
- (5) I want to come on a later day. (Two messages mean this.)
- (6) There will be nine customers.

2. Match the expressions in column 1 with the ones in column 2
column 1

- 1. Could I book a private room for next Monday?
- 2. Could I speak to the headwaiter?
- 3. Good morning
- 4. Ring....ring....ring

5. Hello, what do you want?
6. And what time would that be?
7. May I help you?
8. Are you open today?
9. Have you got a table for eight this evening?
10. At what time are you open for dinner?

column 2

- a. I'm afraid we are closed on Mondays
- b. Blue Parrot, head waiter
- c. Yes, we're open everyday except Sundays.
- d. I'd like to reserve a table for this evening.
- e. For around one thirty.
- f. Forget it.
- g. Good morning.
- h. We are open from five to midnight.
- i. Speaking.

Modal Verb

Modal verbs such as can, could, will, would, may and shall are special because they never change their form

I'll show you to your table. (I'll = I will)

He'll show you to your table. (He'll = He will)

Their negative and question forms do not use do / does

I'm afraid you can't sit there, the table's reserved.

Shall I take your coat?

They are not followed by to

ACTIVITY 1 Underline the modal verbs in the conversation below

Jan: Good evening madam. Good evening sir. Do you have a reservation?

Mr. Kerrigan: Yes, we do.

Jan: Could I have the name, please?

Mr. Kerrigan: Mr. and Mrs. Kerrigan.

Jan: One moment, yes, Mr. and Mrs. Kerrigan- table for two. Shall I take your coats?

Mr. Kerrigan: Yes, please. Can I leave my hat, too?

Jan: Certainly. Would you prefer to sit indoors or out doors?

Mr. Kerrigan: I think we'd prefer indoors. What about the small table near the piano?

Jan: I'm very sorry madam. I'm afraid that table is not available. But the round one near the window is free.

Mr. Kerrigan: Perfect. That's fine.

Jan: Follow me, please. I'll show you to your table.

Mr. Kerrigan: Thank you.

Jan: Here's the menu.

ACTIVITY 2 Choose the correct option to complete these useful restaurant phrases

1. Could / Shall I have your name, please?
2. Would / Shall I take your coats?
3. Would/ May you prefer to sit indoors or outdoors?

LANGUAGE STUDY

Countable and uncountable nouns

First, study the following:

Would you like a roll?

Would you like some water?

Use a/an before 'countable' nouns in the singular	Use some before 'uncountable' nouns
a table, chair, parasol, drink, starter, roll, salad an aperitif, ash tray (an if the next word begins with a ., e , i , o or u) All these nouns are 'countable' They can be in the plural: e.g. two cables, three aperitifs .	some water, wine*, ice, bread, butter, soup, coffee, beer*, jam, honey, sauce, meat, fish, cheese. These nouns cannot be in the plural
Use some before 'countable' nouns in the plural some rolls, ash trays	Liquids and substances are usually 'uncountable'

Note: It is not always easy to know if a noun is 'countable' or 'uncountable'. For example, roll is 'countable' but bread is 'uncountable'. another roll ("countable", only one), some more rolls ("countable", several) some more water ("uncountable "). So it is best to learn this vocabulary with a or some before each word

ACTIVITY Put another or some more in these sentences. Then practise saying them. Add local dishes for further practice.

- (a) Would you like potatoes?
- (b) bottle of wine?
- (c)finger bowl?
- (d) cream?
- (e)crackers?

- (f)pot of coffee?
 (g)mineral water?
 (h) bread?

READING

ACTIVITY 1 A dessert recipe

1. Jan asks Louis, the pastry cook, for a dessert recipe. Read and answer the questions below

1. Who is planning a romantic dinner?

2. Who suggests a dessert recipe?

3. What's the dessert?

4. How many ingredients do you need to prepare the dessert?
.....

5. How many guests are invited?
.....

- Jan: Louis, could you give me the recipe for a simple dessert?
Something that's easy to prepare. It's for a dinner.
- Louis: What about a tiramisu?
- Jan: Tiramisu? Some customers had that last night.
- Louis: And what did they think? Did they like it?
- Jan: They said it was delicious and they didn't leave any. Is it easy to prepare?
- Louis: Yeah. I can give you a simple recipe using American measuring cups. How many is the dinner for?
- Jan: Just for two.
- Louis: Oh, I see. Well, you'll need mascarpone cheese, whipping cream, sugar, amaretto, espresso, sponge-cake and cocoa powder. Combine the mascarpone cheese, the cream, the sugar, the amaretto and the espresso in a large bowl and then whip it all until it thickens.

- Jan: What about the sponge-cake?
- Louis: Put it at the bottom of the mould and then cover it with the cream, you put another layer of sponge-cake on top. Then refrigerate for one hour and serve with cocoa powder on top. Does Rosa like tiramisu?
- Jan: I hope so. How did you know it was Rosa?

ACTIVITY 2 Read the dialogue again and complete the recipe for tiramisu

ACTIVITY 3

Work in pairs. Close your books and tell your partner how to make tiramisu

PRONUNCIATION

Listen to these recommendations. Mark each sentence as enthusiastic {E} or unenthusiastic {U}.

1. Today's special is the fabulous pizza Napoli.
2. If you feel like a sweet dessert you should try the chocolate cake.

3. I would recommend the onion soup. I'm sure you'll find it delicious, madam.
4. Today the chef recommends the seafood paella. It's our specialty.
5. If you like cheese, you should try the green lasagne with the three-creases sauce
6. May I suggest this white Burgoyne? It's perfect with fish.

Now underline the words, which are stressed in the enthusiastic sentences. Then correct the unenthusiastic sentences and practise saying them.

LANGUAGE STUDY

Recommending dishes

Past simple (irregular verbs)

Look at these sentences and the information below.

Jan Some customers had tiramisu last night.

Louis And what did they think? Did they like it?

Jan They said it was delicious and they didn't leave any.

- These verbs are irregular because they never take -ed in the past.
- With negative sentences and questions use did and an infinitive.
- The past form of the verb be is was (I, he, she, it) or were (you, we, they). The verb be does not use did for negative sentences and questions.

ACTIVITY 3 Complete the dialogue with the correct form of the past simple

Louis: Oh, how (go) I the dinner yesterday?

Jan: Don't ask! It (be) 2..... a disaster!

Louis: (have) you 3..... problems with the tiramisu?

Jan: No, not exactly. I (have) 4..... two guests instead of one.

Louis: What?

Jan: Rosa (bring) 5..... someone with her!

Louis: No! Who (be) 6..... it?

Jan: Susan, the Head Waiter! There I (be) 7..... all ready for a romantic dinner. I (put) 8..... candles and flowers on the table and (choose) 9..... Spanish music for the perfect atmosphere. And then the bell (ring) 10..... and there (be) 11..... the two of them: Rosa and my boss!

Louis: But what (be) 12..... the tiramisu like?

Jan: I (not / try) 13..... any because I only (make) 14..... enough for two people. But they (say) 15..... it (be) 16..... delicious.

Louis: So, what's the problem? Your dinner (be) 17... a success!

ACTIVITY 6 Work in groups

Your teacher will give you some playing cards and a set of questions. Each group takes a card and answers the appropriate question. If they give a correct answer they keep the card. If not, the other group tries to win the card. Add up the numbers on the cards and the group with the most points wins.

READING

ACTIVITY 1 Read the following passage and say whether the statements are true (T) or false (F)

Many people do not know the names of specific wines. However, it's useful to remember the following: Bordeaux wines are dry and delightful with almost any food. They are not too heavy, not light, and usually not too expensive. Red Burgundy wines are rich, heavy wines which are perfect for steaks, roasts and even duck.

A few rules that are usually followed in serving wines are: white wines, well chilled, are served with fish, chicken, pork (white meat); red wines are served at room temperature with red meat beef, lamb and game; rose wines, well chilled, can be served with all meats and fish and are excellent for buffets and picnics. Champagne, well chilled, may be served with any course, at any time of day.

1. Many people know the names of specific wines.

FOLLOW-UP

ACTIVITY 1 Make situational dialogs

Situation A. Mr. and Mrs. Smith come to have dinner in your restaurant. They'd like to try some Chinese wine.

Situation B. A party of four come to have supper in your restaurant. They would like to try some French wines with their meal.

ACTIVITY 1 Pair-work

Write down the names of sixteen alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks, each on a separate slip of paper. Put the slips of paper in a box or large envelope. Take turns to be A (waiter/waitress) and B (a customer). B should pull out four slips, and prepare to order the four drinks, giving student A all the necessary information.

For example:

Can you get us one double Scotch on the rocks, a soda with ice, a small medium dry sherry and a tomato juice with ice?

Student A should repeat the order and write it down, then check with B that he or she has written it down correctly.

ACTIVITY 2

1. Work in the same way, but this time

B should give some incomplete orders; for example: Can you get us a Scotch?

Student A should ask for further information, for example: A Scotch? Certainly, Sir. A single or double? Would you like it on the rocks? etc.

2. Work in groups. Create your own cocktail. Tell the class its name and what is in it.

Dialogue 2

THE BUSINESSMAN WITH THE BORIDE FISH

Look at the pictures below and work in four groups.

Group 1: You are a group of friends who want to celebrate a birthday at a bar. Think about how you want to celebrate it (drinks, music, atmosphere).

Groups 2-4: You each work in one of the bars below. Think about what you are going to offer the guests and what makes your bar better than the other two.

When you are ready, the three bars each present their ideas to the guests. The guests then decide which bar is best for their birthday party.

ACTIVITY 2 Acts out the conversation

Talking about Banquet Menu

(Scene: Mr. Richard reserved tables for 40 people on the 2nd of February in Rose Restaurant. Later the captain sent him a confirmation letter with two menus for him to choose. Now Mr. Richard is discussing the details with the captain on the phone.)

G: Thank you very much for the two menus you sent me. Both are good, but I think the second one is better.

C: Very good, Mr. Richard. The second menu.

G: But I'd like to have a chicken dish and a seafood dish instead of the duck and the sea cucumber on the menu. Could you please arrange it for me?

C: With pleasure, Mr. Richard, Let's see. How about Braised prawns with tomato sauce and Crisp fried chicken, sir? They are very delicious.

G: I'll listen to you.

C: Now, what time would you like to have the dinner party?

G: About 7:30. Is it all right?

C: That will be fine, Mr. Richard.

G: Well, shall I pay in advance for it?

C: Oh, I don't think it is necessary, sir. If you have any question, please feel free to contact us.

G: I will.

C: We look forward to seeing your party on the 2nd February, Mr. Richard.
Good-bye.

READING

ACTIVITY 1 Read the following passage and say whether these statements are true (T) or (F):

Buffets are a very popular way of entertaining, especially for large groups. They may be served as a luncheon or dinner. They may be formal or informal. Food may be served cold or warm. At a buffet many people can be served in a short time. Fewer waiters are necessary. The food is attractively arranged on a long table or sideboard. Guests take their plates and choose their food from a variety of dishes. Usually they sit at tables. But at informal buffets on the terrace or in a garden people eat standing up. If they do this, they have to eat most foods with a fork or with their fingers.

1. Buffets are a popular way of relaxing
2. Food can be served cold only.
3. Serving buffets needs a lot of waiters.
4. At formal buffets, people eat standing.
5. Buffets are often formal.

ACTIVITY 2 Jan is preparing a wedding banquet at the Casablanca. Susan calls him to check the preparations. Read and say whether the sentences are true or false.

1. The tables are in banqueting style.
2. Jan is going to use a pink tablecloth.
3. Jan is going to set out 100 plates.
4. Susan tells Jan to use the Venetian crystal.
5. The Venetian champagne glasses go with the Limoges plates.

Jan - I'm going to arrive late today. Please start getting the Bergman Lounge ready:

- number of guests: 25
- table arrangements: U-shape
- tablecloth: linen (pink). Check with laundry.
- dinner plates, soup plates, side plates and dessert plates (Limoges)
- glasses: water, red and white wine
- crystal champagne glasses - check the Venetian glasses are OK
- fish and meat cutlery, and soup spoons

Jan: Hello, Casablanca Restaurant.

Susan: Jan, it's Susan. How's it going? Is everything ready for the banquet?

Jan: Well, the tables are ready, in a U-shape, and now I'm going to lay them.

Susan: Great. What tablecloth are you going to use?

Jan: I got the pink linen from the laundry, and the napkins.

Susan: Good. And do we have enough plates?

Jan: Yes, I'm going to use the Limoges plates: twenty-five dinner, twenty-five side plates and twenty-five dessert plates and twenty-five soup plates.

Susan: Fine. What glasses are you going to use? The Venetian?

Jan: No, I'm not going to use the Venetian ones- we've only got twenty of them.

Susan: Which ones are you going to use then? The Bohemian?

Jan: That's right. They go with the Limoges plates perfectly.

Susan: Excellent Jan! You seem to have everything under control. Well done.

PRONUNCIATION

Listen to the pronunciation of a and of in these sentences. Then practise saying the sentences.

Could I have a glass of wine, please?

Would you like a cup of coffee?

1. Could I have a glass of wine, please?
2. Would you like a cup of coffee?
3. There's a round table near the piano.
4. The bartender makes a special cocktail for me.
5. Is there a toilet here, please?
6. Is there a customer in the bar?
7. Would you like an aperitif, madam?
8. I'll have a pint of lager, please.

The food: for example, cold

The service: for example, slow

Equipment: for example, old

The environment: for example, air-conditioning

Accident: for example, wine spill on guest's jacket

ACTIVITY 2 If a customer complains, what should a waiter/waitress say or do? Tick (✓) the actions which would be correct, and put a cross (x) by those which would be incorrect

1. Apologise to the customer
2. Be polite and calm.
3. Listen carefully to the customer.
4. Ask questions to find out more about the problem if necessary.
5. Tell the customer that he or she is wrong.
6. Explain the restaurant's problems in detail.
7. Talk more loudly than the customer.
8. Take prompt action.
9. Suggest that the customer is complaining about something that is not very important.
10. Call a senior member of staff (e.g. head waiter), if you feel that you cannot deal with the problem.
11. Tell the customer what you are going to do.
12. Maintain the customer's confidence in the restaurant.
13. Say nothing and continue serving.
14. Thank the customer for bringing the matter to your attention.

LISTENING AND SPEAKING

ACTIVITY 1 Listen to two dialogues and answer the questions:

1. What's wrong?
2. What action does the waiter offer?

ACTIVITY 2 Acts out the Conversation

The mother of a family of four at Junior's Kitchen calls over the waitress after several dishes have been served.

Mother: Excuse me, waitress ...?

Waitress: Yes, madam ...?

Mother: I've been trying to get your attention for the last ten minutes.

Waitress: I'm sorry, madam. We're short of staff today because of the holidays. May I help you, madam?

Mother: My son has dropped his fork on the floor.

Waitress: I'll bring him another fork right away, madam. Was there anything else?

Mother: Yes, this raw fish is too spicy. Our daughter can't eat it.

Waitress: Sashimi is always served with mustard sauce, madam. Perhaps I could bring you another bowl of sauce with less mustard?

Mother: Oh, yes, please.

Waitress: Is there anything else, madam?

Mother: Yes, what is this dish over here?

Waitress: This is tempura, madam. Is anything wrong with it?

Mother: Well, we ordered spring rolls, but this is something else.

Waitress: I'm sorry madam. Shall I take it back to the kitchen?

Mother: Oh no, that's all right. It's quite delicious, actually.

ACTIVITY 3 Role playing

Each is given a card on which describes clearly your role

Diner

1. It isn't what you ordered. You said you wanted a cheeseburger. It looks like a ham and cheese sandwich to you. You'd like another martini while you're waiting.
2. Your meat's as tough as leather. It's the toughest well-done meat you've ever had. You can't eat the meat and you want to know if they've got any spaghetti.
3. Call the waiter and tell him he's been ignoring you all evening. You finished your dinner 20 minutes ago, and the waiter doesn't bring the bill in the next two minutes, you're leaving.
4. Call the waiter and tell him the sun's shining straight into your eyes. You want to know if you can change tables. It's also too warm. You think it would be better to sit in the middle of the room.
5. You can't see the band from where you're sitting. You'd like to change the tables.

Waiter:

1. The diner complains to you. Apologize to him and offer to send it back. Ask him if he'd like something else while he's waiting.

2. The diner complains to you. Apologize to him but tell him that well-done meat tends to be tough. Find out if he wants something else. You've got spaghetti.

3. The diner complains to you. Apologize to him and tell him you're short of help.

4. The diner complains to you. Offer to close the curtains for him. Ask if he'd prefer to sit in the middle of the room. The diner wants to change tables. You'll see if you can get him a table up in front. Check and tell him that all the tables in front are taken but you'll let him know when one's free.

ACTIVITY 4

There has been a mix-up at Junior's. Can you complete following dialogues and help our staff correct the problem?

Dialogue 1

The man with the beer

Diner: What beer is this, waiter?

READING

ACTIVITY 1 In cases when the guest wants to pay his bill by credit card, the cashier should always follow the procedure. Put the below sentences in the correct order to make that procedure

- Ask the card holder to sign in the designated space and then compare the signature with the signature panel on the back of the card.
- Imprint the card onto a sales voucher and then write out on it the amount of transaction and date.
- Make sure that the amount of sales does not go beyond the authorized credit limit.
- Check and see if the card is still valid. The expiration date can be found at the front bottom of the card.
- Give the cardholder's copy to the guest and keep the establishment copy in your files for one year. Mail the remaining copy to the credit card company within specified number of days.
- If your hotel has received a warning notice, check and see if the guest's card number is listed on the latest copy. If it is, the card is no good. Remember the person's room number and remember how he looks if possible and report it to your superior immediately. If the guest's card is not listed on the latest copy of warning, it is good.

The family of four at Juniors Kitchen have completed their meal and the mother calls over the waitress.

Conversation 1

Mother: Excuse me, miss?

Waitress: Yes, madam. Would you like anything else?

Mother: My son would like to go to the bathroom

Waitress: The bathroom is in the rear to the right, madam. Please follow me, I'll show you.

Mother: Thank you.

Father: Is there anywhere my daughter could buy a souvenir of Junior's Restaurant?

Waitress: There's a gift shop near the entrance, sir. Or I can send for a flower vendor, if you like.

Father: I think we'll have a look at the gift shop on our way out. Thank you.

Paul: Excuse me, miss ...?

Waitress: Yes, sir. Would you like anything else?

Paul: No, thank you. Are there any good nightclubs near here?

Waitress: Well, there's the Funky Mouse disco, if you like dancing. It's on the corner of Sunset Drive and Cotton Road.

Paul: A disco is rather noisy. We were more thinking about a place to have a drink and listen to some music

Waitress: Perhaps you ought to try Cat's Eye Nightclub, sir.

Paul: Is it far from here?

Waitress: No, it's just a short walk, sir. Walk out of Junior's and turn left. Pass the traffic lights and turn left at Silk Road. You will see Cat's Eye on your left. It's next to Hobbes Steak House.

Paul: Thank you very much.

VIII. PUT THE FOLLOWING INTO VIETNAMESE

The job of the hostess is to welcome and seat the guests when they arrive and to arrange reservations in restaurants. In many cases, the hostess also takes drink orders from the guests after they have been seated. She also thanks the guests when they leave.

Waiters and waitresses also play an important role in the operation, because they have more contact with the guests than any other restaurant employees. They must be attentive to the needs of the guests, and they can explain items on the menu that are unfamiliar to the guests or make recommendations about dishes.

Unit 6

IV. PUT THE FOLLOWING INTO VIETNAMESE

Once you're in China, you'll probably find the differences in quality, ingredients and styles between the food prepared in China and those prepared at Chinese restaurants in the foreign countries.

Chinese cooking has a history which is much longer than that of French cuisine. It uses almost all of the meat, poultry, fish and vegetables including food-stuffs which may appear rare or even distasteful to the foreigners.

Marco Polo once said about Chinese food. "They eat all sorts of meat including that of dogs and other animals of every kind". Talking about the eating habits of Cantonese, people often say humorously that they make use of anything with four legs except tables.

Number 1

GUEST: I think I'll have the prawn cocktail to start with, please, and then the beef salad.

Number 2

GUEST: My wife will have the sole, please, and I'll have the lamb cutlets. And we'd also like a bottle of Anjou Rose.

Number 3

GUEST: Can you recommend a German white wine?

YOU: Would you like the Baden dry, sir, or perhaps the Piesporter?

Number 4

GUEST: I want something light as a main course.

YOU: Would you like a salad, sir?

GUEST: It's one soup, and two smoked salmons. And then one fillet steak, one chicken Kiev and a sole. Also, we'll have a bottle of the Chablis, please.

Number 5

GUEST: I'll take the pate to start with, and my husband wants the smoked salmon. He'll have the fillet steak after that, and I'll have the chicken salad. And a bottle of Franken Sylvaner to go with it.

Number 6

GUEST: Three melons and a pate, followed by one lamb cutlets and three soles. And we'll have the Goldener Oktober to start with, and then the Mouton Cadet to follow. OK? Thanks.

TAKING ORDERS FOR DESSERTS

ACTIVITY 1

1. TAKE THE ORDER

Now listen to these guests. They are ordering meals. Look at the menu and write down the order. Here's the first guest.

I'd like a Campari first, please. Then I'll have melon, followed by the chicken chasseur.

Number 2

A pastis, please. Then I'll try the clams, followed by the Spanish pork, thanks.

Number 3

It's one whisky with water, no ice, and a vodka and orange. Then two mussels. No, sorry, one mussels and a pike mousse. After that we'll both have roast duck.

Number 4

A gin and tonic, an orange juice and a Cinzano, please. And for hors d'oeuvres it's one pate and two shellfish cocktails. After that, an entrecote, rare, one hare and one turbot with crab sauce, please.

Number 5

We'll both have a neat whisky, please. Neat, no water or ice. Then a consommé and the king prawns. After that I'll have the fillets of sole, and my friend will have the goulash. OK? Thanks.

Number 6

A rum, and a sweet sherry. After that we'll have the melon, followed by the mullet, and me the clams and then the veal casserole. The children will both have melon, and then the chicken chasseur. Thank you.

Unit 10

DRINKS

ACTIVITY 1

1. GUEST: I'd like a vermouth, please, a Cinzano:

Number 2

GUEST 2: Now, let's see, what shall I have. I know, a gin. Please, regular, with tonic.

Number 3

GUEST 3: I think I'll have a vodka. A Stolichnaya, please.

Number 4

GUEST 4: I rather fancy a whisky, a rye whisky. OK?

Number 5

GUEST 5: I don't want anything alcoholic. I'll take a Perrier water. With ice and lemon.

Number 6

GUEST 6: For me, a brandy. Hm, not the Martell, and not the Remy Martin three star. Make it the Remy Martin VSOP, would you?

Number 7

GUEST 7: A sherry for me, I don't like cream sherry very much, so that leaves a Tio Pepe, or a Croft Original. The Tio Pepe, I think.

Number 8

GUEST 8: I take it you have red, rose and white house wines by the glass?

BARMAN: Yes, sir.

GUEST 8: Red's too heavy, rose I don't really go for. The white, please.
